

Online Information Session for the English-based Degree Programs School of Political Science and Economics, Waseda University

On Saturday, August 22, the School of Political Science and Economics (SPSE) at Waseda University will hold an online information session for all who are interested in our English-based degree programs (EDP). We will provide information—and answer your questions—about the programs and the upcoming admissions. We hope that you will be able to attend this event!

Owing to concerns around the coronavirus, this event will be held using the Zoom online conference system. We will hold two sessions to accommodate as many people as possible. Both sessions will include the same content.

Session 1: 11:00 to 12:00, August 22, 2020 (JST)

Session 2: 16:00 to 17:00, August 22, 2020 (JST)

Introductions by EDP faculty members

EDP faculty members will give an introduction to the school, the EDP and the criteria for admissions.

Presentations by EDP students

Current EDP students will share their experiences in academics and student life.

Q&A

SPSE staff will respond to common questions from prospective applicants, and other questions raised by the participants

Registration

In order to attend one of the SPSE-EDP Information Sessions, you must complete the online registration by 17:00, August 17, 2020 (JST). Be sure to register your email address because we will send the invitation and instructions for attending the Zoom session to the registered email address.
